

Jan 6, 1994,

at the ICT Warehouse Theatre.

A presentation of lole Community Theatre

The original vision of the Iola Community Theatre Warehouse was that it be more than a dinner theatre and rehearsal hall. The Poetry Jam is consistent with that vision.

On January 6, 1994, ICT is sponsoring an evening of original poems written by area poets. We invite you to participate. If you write poetry then now is the time to come out of the closet and share your talents at the ICT Poetry Jam. There will be prizes (although not very big ones), munchies (although not very nourishing ones), and beverages (although not very strong ones), and fun, too.

What we need to know at this time is who are the area poets. If you write poetry or know someone who does, then please contact us. We'll keep you informed. We Promise!

And even if you don't write poems, come anyway. You only have to love words.

The ICT Warehouse Theatre is located on South Jefferson one block south of the square in downtown lola. Just fill out the coupon and leave it here at the warehouse or mail it. Thank You.

Name
Address_
Phone
remarks:

Drop into the box or mail to:

ICT Poetry Jam 1201 N. Kentucky Iola, KS 66749